You are invited to hear and share experiences and raise awareness of key considerations and challenges associated with starting up an environmental consultancy practice. With large firms reducing their staff, we have seen a growing number of small consultancies emerge. If you have started your own company or are thinking of going out on your own, you can't miss this seminar.

We will be hearing from a specialist speaking panel comprising:

- consultants who have recently embarked on such a venture; and
- experienced legal advisers to practical legal perspectives on challenging topics such as:
  - Business structuring and services;
  - Taxation; and
  - Insurance.

Speakers include:

- Scott Hanna, Director, Roberschan Environmental
- Tim Scanlan, Senior Associate, HopgoodGanim Lawyers
- Justin Byrne, Partner, HopgoodGanim Lawyers
- Jacqi Marshall, Senior Associate, HopgoodGanim Lawyers

Chair: Mark Breitfuss, Director, Epic Environmental

An essential seminar for environmental consultants in industry, large corporation private practice and government who are considering starting up their own independent practice or who have recently started up their own independent practice
