Further your career with a certified environmental practitioner certification. Find out how!

ABOUT THE EVENT

The presentation will cover;

- The background and the benefits
- The certification process and application advice
- The types of Practitioners/specialty certifications

Guest speakers Joanne Flint and Darren Murphy will provide their experiences of and insights to the CEnvP scheme. They will be joined by Tahlia Walsh and Rupert Duckworth.

Joanne is a member of EIANZ QLD Division, a Certified Environmental Practitioner and CEnvP Board member with more than 30 years of broad experience internationally, nationally and in all Australian states. She was awarded Fellow of Engineers Australia in 2013 and has a strong interest in transformational change, sustainability and biodiversity conservation.

Darren Murphy is a Principal Consultant with over 30 years' experience in environmental research, management and planning within the mining, transport and conservation industries. Darren is recognised industry leader in the management of mine and asset closure studies. He has a master's degree in Zoology and has been a Certified Environmental Practitioner (CEnvP) since 2005. Darren represents the EIANZ on the Standards Australia mirror committee for development of the ISO mine closure standard. He is also a member of the steering committee for development of the EIANZ's certification for land rehabilitation and is a founding member of the Closure Planning Practitioners Association.

If you have been considering furthering your career with a certification, this is the perfect opportunity to learn about the process and the benefits. Light snacks and drinks will be provided on the evening and the event will also be available via Zoom for our regional and interstate members.
