SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

DR KYLIE GALWAY
ACTING ASSISTANT SECRETARY GOVERNANCE AND REFORM BRANCH
ENVIRONMENTAL APPROVALS DIVISION
DEPARTMENT OF CLIMATE CHANGE, ENERGY, THE ENVIRONMENT AND WATER

Dr Kylie Galway has more than 20 years experience in environmental policy and data at both the State and Federal level. She is currently the Director of Environmental Offsets in the Department of Climate change, Energy, the Environment and Water.

PROFESSOR MARTINE MARON

Martine Maron is Professor of Environmental Management at The University of Queensland. Her research is at the interface of ecology and conservation policy. A particular focus is biodiversity net gain/no net loss policy, particularly the design and consequences of biodiversity offsetting, as well as the conservation and restoration of Australia's woodlands and woodland bird assemblages. She has worked extensively with Australian state and federal government agencies over the past decade to support development of biodiversity offset policy and improve its implementation. She also provides guidance on offset policy development internationally, and advises on judicious use of net outcome approaches in international policy including under the UN Convention to Combat Desertification and the Convention on Biological Diversity. She currently chairs the IUCN's Impact Mitigation and Ecological Compensation Thematic Group, and is a member of the Wentworth Group of Concerned Scientists.
