SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

Damon is a Subject Matter Expert in atmospheric emissions from all industry sectors, including both conventional air pollutants and greenhouse gases. He provides technical guidance during the production of air quality impact assessments and has considerable experience in atmospheric dispersion modelling techniques.

He has acted as a senior air quality professional in Australia for over two decades. During this time, has acted as both technical peer reviewer and Project Director for many complex air quality and greenhouse gas related projects. This has included the delivery of multiple region-wide atmospheric dispersion modelling / air quality impact assessments and stakeholder consultation exercises.

Damon also provides expert advice on energy efficiency, air pollution control and carbon management issues, and has extensive experience as an expert witness in to these aspects.
