

QLD

ENVIRONMENTAL LAW

AN INTRODUCTION

Whether you're an experienced environmental practitioner or a student looking to enter the industry, understanding Queensland's environmental laws is essential to ethical, impactful and professional practice.

Join EIANZ students and early careers for a workshop that provides an overview of the environmental legal system, environmental impact assessment, and the practical skills of statutory interpretation.

Our workshop will be run by Dr Chris McGrath, a practicing barrister and adjunct associate professor at UQ's global change institute. Chris has extensive experience teaching environmental law and has acted in a range of environmental cases across Queensland.

Networking drinks will follow the workshop.
